Meeting

During the RPM meeting, we gathered all the necessary information we required to make an informed judgement about our anticipated progress over the course of all our sprints. We assigned estimates to the user stories and decided on how we should plan our sprints to show progress of the app that can be demoed to the client and the TA. We must ensure to take the needs of the client into account at every stage of development. The following elaborates on the user stories we expect to complete for each sprint:
